Read the story on page 8

“ Throughout the year I take time to pause and reflect on the weight of the mission of McKenzie Health System. The plans we make are built on this mission, and the future of healthcare in our rural community depends on us staying true to it.

I am extremely proud of our entire team. The accomplishments achieved in pursuing our mission are too numerous to list in this letter, but there are many and caring for our community is at the heart of each of them. As my mind glides across some of those accomplishments, I am reminded of the passion and commitment we have within our team and in our community, and I am so grateful.

I think about the lives that will be brought into this community in the coming decades... children, grandchildren, great grandchildren... because, even in this moment, part of our mission is to take steps to assure quality healthcare will remain available for those future generations. They are too important not to plan for.

With an exceptional team and the support of a wonderful community, I am excited about the future. Together we will do great things.

I look forward to pursuing this mission for you and with you,

One Patient's Journey to Breathing Easier

Pulmonary Rehabilitation at McKenzie Health System

Laura Cole's Pulmonary Rehabilitation journey began back in July after she and her husband tested positive for COVID-19. The virus impacted both Laura and her husband profoundly – with her husband spending two weeks in the ICU and Laura experiencing breathing problems herself ever since.

Frustrated with her respiratory complications, Laura sought help. Having witnessed what Pulmonary Rehab did for both her husband and another family member, Laura decided to give the McKenzie Health System program a try in hopes of improving her quality of life.

After completing phase two of the Pulmonary Rehab program, she was noticing so much improvement she enrolled in phase three, which is an extra phase offered to patients who want to continue their exercises and breathing techniques in a setting that offers monitoring. Laura continued to notice significant changes in her breathing. Having gone through two knee surgeries and bariatric surgery as well, Laura credits McKenzie's Pulmonary Rehab and Aqua Aerobics programs with her restored lung function as well as the role they played in her weight loss journey, having lost over sixty pounds to date.

One of her favorite aspects of the Pulmonary Rehab program is the group setting, which embraces the opportunity for peer support and the chance to meet others with the same or similar condition. Regaining and maintaining a healthy lifestyle is a group effort – it starts with the person taking control of their choices, partnering with trusted providers, and taking advantage of programs and activities in the area to help establish healthy habits.

Looking to start your own healthy habits? Contact McKenzie Health System about our Pulmonary Rehab program or our variety of other programs that can help you embrace your healthiest self.

Local Swing Bed Program Allows Patients to Feel at Home While Recovering

Alice Costine, a returning patient to McKenzie's Swing Bed Program, has lived a full life spent loving wholeheartedly. Throughout Alice's 81 years of life, she has loved painting, exploring new places, and bingo, but her true love is her family. Her fondest memories are those of days spent loving her husband, Keith, and raising their children. Used to a busy corporate lifestyle and having lived in four different states, as well as Canada, when it came time to retire, Alice and Keith had some decisions to make about what they wanted the next chapter of their life to look like, including where they wanted to spend it. Ultimately, Sandusky's small-town hospitality won over their hearts.

"There are many advantages to living in a small town like Sandusky," shared Keith Costine. "One of them being the local hospital. We are lucky that McKenzie has so many resources, especially the Swing Bed Program."

Alice's swing bed journey started with a series of chronic infections that left her weak and in need of rehabilitation. Since then, she has been in the program two other times for general weakness and post-operative therapy. For Alice, one of the biggest benefits of the Swing Bed Program was having rehabilitation come to her and work with her daily. This has helped Alice improve greatly throughout recovery.

Alice and Keith chose McKenzie's Swing Bed Rehabilitation Program because of its proximity to home, allowing Keith to visit every day and help Alice with her recovery. The pair also loved the convenience of having all the resources they needed in one place; if Alice's health were to decline while in the program, doctors and staff would already be there to care for any complications.

"If you have any problems, everything is right there. It is basically full service," Alice explains. "The staff is so friendly and willing to help. I especially like how they included both my husband and I in weekly updates and conversations to make sure we all had the same goals and mindsets. It helped me reflect on the past week and know what to look forward to in the next one."

When a patient is in the Swing Bed Program, they can be there for a few weeks or even months at a time. As a result, McKenzie aims to keep patients as happy and healthy as possible with daily activities, dietitian approved meals, positive mindsets and words, as well as anything else the patient may need.

Alice shared her personal experience interacting with McKenzie staff members, saying, "The staff is so friendly and well-trained. They are also always willing to help, and I knew they would do anything for me. I loved being able to rely on them no matter what time of the day or the task."

Alice has now returned home to her husband Keith. Although she still has some recovering to do post-surgery, she is very hopeful for a full recovery and being able to freely move around thanks to the Swing Bed Rehabilitation Program.

The Swing Bed Program at McKenzie allows you to recover from surgery, illness, or injury right here in our community, where you can be close to home, friends, and family. It's a short-term care solution until you are ready to care for yourself. Our professional and friendly staff will treat you like family and get you back to living your life. To learn more about the Swing Bed Program, give us a call at 810-648-6170.

"I am very happy to be home, but I miss the McKenzie staff, and I am sure they miss me too. I think there were even some tears when I left from both me and the staff – that shows the family environment they create at McKenzie while you are a part of the program," shared Alice.

Early Detection Can Make a Life-Saving Difference

3D Mammography at McKenzie Health System

Retired media professional Rita Faulk was enjoying her peaceful retirement on Lake Huron, after years of living a busy city life, when she scheduled her annual mammogram at McKenzie Health System. Little did she know, the mammogram would come back abnormal.

Concerned, the McKenzie team encouraged her to take advantage of additional testing, which she agreed to. Having completed an additional mammogram, as well as an ultrasound and eventually a biopsy, Rita waited for the results. Understanding how nerve racking it can be to wait for test results, the McKenzie team worked hard to schedule testing dates in proximity to each other so Rita could have the results as soon as possible.

The biopsy, performed at McKenzie Health System, came back and showed that Rita had stage one breast cancer on the chest wall of one of her breasts. Typically, this location is hard to detect on traditional mammogram machines, but luckily for Rita, the 3D mammogram picked it up on the first try.

"A heartfelt thanks goes out to the radiology and surgical departments at McKenzie for being there for me during an extremely challenging time in my life," shares Rita. "Without their persistence to get testing done quickly, I'm not sure what my condition would currently be. Not only did they help me with everything they could, but the staff at McKenzie was also personable and remembered me every step of the way."

With a formal diagnosis in hand, the next step was to undergo surgery to remove the cancerous nodule and prevent the cancer from spreading. Once the surgery was completed, Rita then underwent radiation to ensure all the cancer was removed.

Today, Rita is now in remission and continues to go in for routine body scans and testing to ensure the cancer does not return. Thanks to early detection, Rita can now go back to enjoying retirement with her husband and two Great Danes, as well as visiting her adult children often. For Rita and many others, early detection meant early treatment and prevented more serious complications in the years ahead.

Finding comfort during a challenging time can be difficult. For Rita, she appreciated how the McKenzie staff made sure she understood every procedure and did everything in their power to make sure she was comfortable along the way. Because of this, Rita believes that what makes a small hospital so amazing is the staff within it and the lives they impact.

Routine mammograms make early detection possible and can save the lives of many, including Rita's and other women's in the community. McKenzie Health System has invested in the latest diagnostic technology, including a 3D mammography machine and ProFound Artificial Intelligence (AI)-based computer detection software, which assists in analyzing images of breast tissue to identify suspicious areas that could be cancerous, improving the odds of early detection. To find out more about the 3D mammography technology available at McKenzie Health System, visit www.McKenzieHealth.org/3D or call 810-648-6110.

Community Care Coordination Makes Managing Your Care Easier

It's no secret the world of healthcare can be confusing and even daunting at times. However, at McKenzie Health System (MHS), we believe that should never stop a patient from receiving the care they need, which can often be the case for patients with chronic conditions. That's why, at MHS, we are proud to offer three Care Management programs to provide patients with chronic conditions the support they need.

Run by our team of Community Care Coordinators (CCCs), these three programs are designed to give extra attention to patients with chronic conditions. Two of these programs, the Chronic Care Management (CCM) and Provider-Delivered Care Management (PDCM) programs focus on care management delivered in the provider's office, which allows the CCCs to become an extension of the patient's primary care provider, in order to better support their healthcare goals, provide additional education, coordinate care, and be a resource to services available to improve their quality of life.

For patients who have recently been hospitalized, we also offer our Transitional Care Management (TCM) services. TCM's focus is to provide a team to assist patients after discharge with the transition from hospital to home, ensuring all discharge instructions are understood and followed through on, as well as ensuring an appointment with a Primary Care Provider is performed.

However, coordinating care for these patients is more than just refilling their medications, scheduling appointments, and ensuring patients are getting all of their necessary screenings – it's also about connecting patients to resources they may not even be aware they are eligible for.

Community Care Coordinators, like Theresa Lounsbery, can help patients with a wide variety of services like attaining financial assistance, medical coverage, affordable housing, and food assistance. Or even connecting patients with housekeeping services, transportation to and from appointments, home healthcare, visiting nurse services, and in-home community paramedic visits.

Vera Nichols, a patient of Lounsbery's, shares her experience with the program, "McKenzie's Community Care Coordination is the working hands of this community. They help me schedule my appointments, understand my medications, and allow me to live a better life. Without Theresa and the rest of McKenzie's staff members, I am not sure where I would be today, as they have helped me through some of the most difficult times in my life. I aim to get healthier for my family, my love of gardening, and to reduce further complications. McKenzie's staff are dependable and caring – that's why I keep coming back and so should you."

It is testimonials like these that make Lounsbery and her fellow Community Care Coordinators' jobs so rewarding. "I am very proud of the work we do and the difference we make in our patients' lives," says Lounsbery. "I hope to continue to build our program to ensure that our community continues to have connections to the resources that are available to them."

To learn more about McKenzie's Care Management programs, call 810-648-3770 and ask to speak with a Community Care Coordinator.

"We work closely with all of the McKenzie physicians, social workers, and hospital staff to make sure we are reaching out to those who are recognized as high risk or in need of support services," says Theresa Lounsbery.

Excellence in Emergency Care 24/7

Pictured: Lacey Shea, RN, incoming Emergency Department Manager and Trauma Program Manager and Konni Phillips, RN, current Emergency Department Manager and Trauma Program Manager.

McKenzie Health System provides fast, expert emergency and trauma care for Sanilac County and surrounding communities.

Our Emergency Care Department has the following certifications:

- Level IV Trauma Facility
- Joint Commission “Acute Heart Attack Ready” Certified
- Mission: Lifeline STEMI Certified
- HFAP “Stroke Ready” Certified
- Emergency Stroke Care-Telemedicine (in conjunction with Ascension | St. John Hospital – NeuroOnCall Telemed Network)
- Level 3 Geriatric Emergency Department

“Individually and in total, these awards and certifications are an incredible testament to the commitment our organization has to the community and to each and every patient who comes through our doors,” said Rebecca Stoliker, BSN, RN, Director of Nursing Services at MHS. “We are very proud of the work our team has put in to earning these certifications and to continually advance the standard of care offered by McKenzie Health System.”

Exceptional Emergency Care During the Unexpected

If you’ve heard the phrase, “Expect the unexpected,” you know just how hard that can truly be, but at McKenzie Health System’s Emergency Department, that’s our specialty.

For Bob Lane and Jerry Cuffe, the unexpected happened at the beginning of August on a trip to visit Lane’s mother in Yale. While there, Lane suddenly felt dizzy and experienced a rapid heart rate of around 140 bpm. Concerned, Cuffe took Lane to McKenzie’s Emergency Department for immediate medical attention, where they remained for six hours of examinations and observation.

“From the moment we arrived, we were overwhelmed by the compassion and respect we were both given, from Mike at the front desk to everyone in the ER,” Bob describes. “Diane, the nurse that was with me, was wonderful. I can’t thank her enough for helping me stay calm, as I had never been in an ER or had any cardiac issues before.”

After further evaluation, Lane was diagnosed with Acute Onset Atrial Fibrillation, a condition consisting of rapid, irregular heart rhythm activity. Due to Lane’s unstable heart rate, it was determined he would need to be transferred to Covenant Medical Center’s Cardiac Care Unit in Saginaw.

Cuffe and Lane expressed their deepest gratitude for everyone they encountered at McKenzie, from those who helped in Lane’s diagnosis to the ambulance crew who offered to have Cuffe – who was unfamiliar with the area – follow them to Covenant, delivering both Lane and Cuffe safely to their destination. Lane has since recovered from the events of that night and has followed up with a cardiologist near his home in Arizona and is doing well.

How a Routine Procedure Possibly Saved One Patient's Life

Surgical Services at McKenzie Health System

Here at McKenzie Health System (MHS), we are always striving to provide the best equipment and procedures for our patients. This year, MHS has focused its fundraising efforts on our surgical services, as we update the hospital's gastrointestinal scopes in order to provide the most accurate testing for our patients. With colonoscopies being the top procedure performed at McKenzie, updating the gastrointestinal scopes was an important investment for the hospital and community. Although colonoscopies may not be the most appealing topic, they are important and can significantly impact a person's life, like it did for Kim Norton who shared her story with us.

In early 2020, right around the time the pandemic hit and would change the way the world lived their day-to-day lives, Kim Norton hit a milestone birthday – one that made her due for a routine colonoscopy. Any other year, this would have been no big deal, but due to the many shutdowns and hospital staffing shortages across the country, elective procedures, such as colonoscopies, were postponed, allowing hospital staff to shift their priorities to more urgent matters at hand. Eventually, when testing opened back up again, Kim was still hesitant about having a colonoscopy done.

At her next annual checkup with her primary care provider, Kim was asked why she hadn't had her colonoscopy yet. Kim replied that she was nervous to have it done and felt fine, so she didn't feel like it was necessary. Understanding her nervousness around the subject, but also understanding the importance of having regular colon testing, her provider suggested Kim do the at-home Cologuard test, which only tests for positive and negative cancer results – and Kim agreed.

Much to Kim's surprise, her test came back positive, which meant it was time to schedule a colonoscopy exam to get a more accurate result. During the colonoscopy, the McKenzie surgeon found a suspicious polyp and removed it during the procedure. The polyp was then sent for testing. When the results came back, it was determined that the polyp indeed had precancerous cells.

This is a perfect example of why regular screenings are important. In this case, it was a potentially life-saving difference for Kim.

The McKenzie Surgical Team and Kim urges everyone who has been pushing back routine colonoscopies and testing to take the leap and get them done. Cancer can affect anyone and grows in different time frames. Early detection is the best way to ensure a good prognosis and potentially save lives.

Whether it's a colonoscopy you're needing, or another surgical procedure altogether, McKenzie Health System's Surgical Services Department is prepared to serve you and your family. Our multidisciplinary team combines state-of-the-art technology with clinical experience to provide minimally invasive surgery techniques and high-quality care for patients in a caring, healing environment. Our surgical department provides surgeries in fields such as Advanced Laparoscopic Surgery, General Surgery, Gynecology, Ophthalmology, Orthopedics, Podiatry, Upper and Lower GI Endoscopies, and more.

The McKenzie Foundation, McKenzie Auxiliary, and the McKenzie Autumn Benefit Committee joined forces this year to raise funds for needed equipment. The September campaign, "Early Detection is Music to Our Ears" pushed donations past the goal of what was left to be raised. Thank you to all of the donors, sponsors, bidders, volunteers, and committee members who put in countless hours to help us reach the goal and fulfill the mission of continuing to provide exceptional care for this community.

Auxiliary Update

The McKenzie Health System (MHS) Auxiliary is part of a generous, caring community. Founded in 1967, the MHS Auxiliary is comprised of individuals that volunteer thousands of hours to help the community thrive. The Auxiliary's role is to support the hospital through on-site volunteer work and by raising money through events, fundraisers, and the sales made at the McKenzie Gift Shop. Members donate their time and talents for the benefit of the hospital, working in the gift shop, providing support at community events, and coordinating fundraising opportunities. The funds raised are then used for specific purchases for the hospital.

This year, the MHS Auxiliary hosted the 16th Annual McKenzie Auxiliary Golf Scramble, which took place on June 9, 2022, and continues to increase in popularity thanks to the support of our thoughtful sponsors. The event was lots of fun for the golfers and allowed the Auxiliary to raise a new record of $30,000 to help with the purchase of gastroenterology equipment. We are extremely thankful and appreciative of all the supporters and golfers that made this donation to the hospital possible!

However, we didn't stop there! Auxiliary members have been hard at work to ensure a continuing supply of stuffed animals and gift cards are available for McKenzie's Surgical Services and Emergency Department. And back in May, the Auxiliary showed their support for McKenzie Hospital employees during National Hospital Week by baking them delicious treats to enjoy all week long.

The fun doesn't stop there! Mark your calendars for our Bakeless Bake Sale, which was moved to October/November. We look forward to further supporting the hospital and its services.

Foundation Update

Here at the McKenzie Health System Foundation, we are so blessed to be part of such a generous, loving community of supporters. The role of the Foundation is to help provide financial support to the hospital to maintain and improve the quality care you have come to know and love.

Each year, it is with great anticipation that the McKenzie Foundation chooses a new philanthropic project to support the hospital. In 2022, we were proud to educate the public about the importance of early detection for gastrointestinal concerns, bringing light to the need for preventative screenings and up-to-date gastroenterology equipment.

However, the generosity of our community did not stop there!

The Community Relations Committee hosted the Go Red Ladies Night virtual event, re-emphasizing the importance of heart health and fitness for women in our community.

McKenzie's Heart & Hope Committee continued their employee engagement campaign. We are proud to announce that over 75% of McKenzie staff now participate in donating back to the hospital, compared to the national average of 25% of hospital employees. Way to go team!

We finished off the year with the "Early Detection is Music to Our Ears" gastroenterology equipment fundraiser in September. The month-long digital campaign, launched by the Circle of Friends Committee and supported by the Horizon Society Committee with a lead gift from Tubbs Brothers as a Signature Sponsor, featured engaging and educational content, a radiothon, and aligned with an online auction and the Autumn Benefit. Thanks to our sponsors, attendees, organizers, and bidders, we raised over $75,000!

Each year, we are so grateful for the support of our community to move the mission of healthcare forward by bringing new equipment and services to our own backyard. Thank you to everyone who continues to donate and support the McKenzie Foundation. We could not do it without you!
